ONE MOMENT

BY PENN PEG

This is the story of a Tommy-hunting turtle. Not a turtle-hunting Tommy, mind you, but a turtle who went hunting for a Tommy and bagged his quarry.

Chalk it up on the list of things that just can't happen - but do. Ask Tommy Lloyd Settles, who lives on Dell Road.

This is the account of Tommy's battle with the terrapin. Just over a week ago - May 31 to be exact - Tommy was running in a field near his home when his foot slipped and down he tumbled in the tall grass.

So there lay Tommy. And there - an inch from his nose lurked the terrapin. One look at Tommy and I guess the critter figured he'd have him for lunch. Or something.

He snapped his head forward and sank his teeth in Tommy's lip.

Not one to take kindly any terrapin paying lip service, particularly when it was his own lip, 10-year-old Tommy whipped his hands forward and applied a strangle hold on the beast's neck and yanked.

Lip and terrapin teeth parted ways and Tommy hied himself off to the doctor who put two stitches in Tommy's punctured lip and administered an anti-tetanus shot.

Tommy or his dad, Foster Settles, no doubt would be glad to administer a shot, too, to friend terrapin, but when last seen, the animal was headed back for friendly surroundings in a creek.

The moral of this little tale of truth is: If you're human, don't stick your neck out to face to face with a terrapin.

From the pages of history: Chief and Missus Feather. In Your Cap were sitting outside their wigwam after succotash one night when Scout Ten Toes dashed in.

"Chief," Ten Toes said breathlessly, "I just saw a bunch of buffaloes down at the watering hole and they said they were going to build a trail at the edge of our clearing."

"A buffalo trail? Right by our clearing?" asked Chief Wampum.

"Oh, heep little chief," exclaimed Missus Wampum, "will they take our tepee? Don't let that noise all night. Why can't they build their old trail somewhere else? Don't let them take our clearing. We've worked so hard and the village needs every clearing it can get. Remember at the last tribal council, Heep Big Chief Chest Thumper said we had the village with best clearings in the whole tribe."

"Now squaw, don't you fret your brains none. Them buffaloes won't get one inch of our clearing. Ten Toes, did they say how big a trail they wanted?"

"Yeh, they were talking about a six-buffalo trail. Not one of them little deer trails. They say the herd is growing and they got to be able to get to them salt licks in a hurry."

"Ten Toes," said Chief Wampum, "go fetch the leader of that pack and tell him I want to see him. We got to have a pow-wow."

Ten Toes turned and vanished into the canebrake, only the squeak in his unrolled mocassins breaking the silence. In a few minutes he came back with the buffalo head. They all sat down in a circle.

"Now what's this about you're wanting a big buffalo trail alongside our clearing?" the buffalo grunted. "Yep. We've got to have one here. It's part of our Inter-Forest Trail. Salt Lick and Watering Hole System. It's too bad but now of your tepees are in the way and will have to go."

FAIR-GOING IS FOR THE YOUNG and very young as indicated here by Connie Pack giving a ticket to the Jeffersontown Fair to pretty Miss Cindy Frohlich. A Connie is astride the boat which will be given away as the grand prize of the fair, scheduled June 18-21 at the Jeffersontown Fair grounds.

Royalty Parade To Open Fair Festivities June 18

A parade of king and queen and prince and princess candidates will mark the grand opening of the Jeffersontown Fair Wednesday, June 18. Participants will leave the school grounds, scene of the event, at 6 p.m. and return by 7:30 when they will be presented to the fair audience.

The toddlers crowd at 8 p.m. rounds the opening day's feature attractions.

Highlight of the Thursday program is a county-wide pet show beginning at 6:30. Entry blanks may be obtained at any county playground.

Friday events include a variety show with acts from "Chuckles" and featuring Wayne Taylor and the International Youth Ambassadors. The program begins at 8 p.m.

Beginning at 3 p.m. Saturday, there will be a dog exhibit at the Greater Louisville Training Club. Fifteen dogs are to be put through their paces by a group of professional trainers. This program replaces the originally scheduled horse show.

At 4 p.m., the king and queen, prince and princess and junior prince and princess will be crowned, followed by the drawing for the grand prize, a luxury motor boat, at 11.

As a surprise, the committee has arranged for a "mystery guest" at the fair, the identity of whom will be revealed Saturday night.

The fair is sponsored by the Jeffersontown Community Center and the Recreation Council as a community project.

BUECHEL BOY RECOVERING FROM WATER SNAKE BITE

Henry Buechberger, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Buechberger, 2024 Bruce Avenue, Buechel, was released from Children's Hospital Wednesday after spending Tuesday night under observation as the result of a snake bite.

Henry was bitten by a water snake, apparently one of a non-poisonous variety, Tuesday afternoon while he was looking for tadpoles in a pond near Busath Avenue.

Arms across his chest, heaved a big breath jutting his chin skyward, and grunted: "Fine thing a trail will be for us. You break all the trees down and what will our braves hide behind to shoot the white men? Or you for that matter? And how can Scout Ten Toes hear creep silently and unseen? We need every clearing we can get for living but we've got to have the forest."

"Yes, yes, we must have the clearing," said Missus Wampum. "Our little papooses will get lost in the forest. And if they get on the trail, you'll run over them."

"Oh no," said the buffalo, "this will be a limited access buffalo trail."

"I don't care what you say," said Mrs. Wampum, "I'm against it and I'm going to organize a Save Our Clearing committee."

County To Improve 110 Miles Of Roads

Beginning July 1, the start of the 1958-59 fiscal year, the Jefferson County Road Department will spend $382,762 to improve 110.29 miles of roads in all sections of the county. Of the amount, $140,000 will represent the county's share of state rural highway funds.

Fifteen sections of roads totaling 18.9 miles will be given bituminous surfacing with state funds. This work will be done by contract. Construction of a bridge over Pond Creek on Katsy Station Road is planned provided Bullitt County pays half the cost.

All other work will be done by county crews including a type of surfacing that will cost $5,000 per mile on sections of 18 roads covering 33.3 miles and surfacing to cost $800 per mile on parts of 36 roads totaling $6.14 miles.

Cost of the $5,000-a-mile stretches is to be $166,250 and that of the $800-a-mile projects is estimated at $46,512.

New King's Baptist Church

The 158-year-old Kings Baptist Church, Mount Washington, broke ground Sunday for a new $71,000 church.

The church will be made of Bedford stone and will be in traditional style. In size it will be 44 x 70 feet, basement space will be provided for Sunday School classes.

The church is being built immediately in front of the present building. The latter will be partitioned and used as the main Sunday school building.

The church in 1801 united with the Salem Association of the Long Run meeting house and in 1803 became a charter member of the Long Run Baptist Association with a membership of 58.

Among Mr. Walker's descendants who followed in his ministerial footsteps were two sons, three grandsons and a great-grandson.

Besides Mr. Walker, King's Baptist Church has been served by Henson Hobbs, George Marshall, Zachary Carpenter, John Holland, William Paddock Barnett, Thomas Coleman, and Walter Ellis.

Larry T. Tyler, 69, Blue Motor Coach Mechanic, Dies

Larry Thomas Tyler, 69, 10432 Waterson Trail, Jeffersontown, died at 8:55 a.m. Monday in General Hospital about an hour and a half after he was stricken ill as he was en route to work at the Blue Motor Coach Lines Garage, 236 Pearl Street, Louisville, where he had been head mechanic 17 years.

Tyler was aboard a Jeffersontown-Louisville Blue Motor bus and complained of feeling ill as the vehicle was at Wallace Avenue. Dugie Cowherd, the driver, said Tyler wanted to get off the bus so he could return home. He changed his mind, however, and rode as far as Speed Avenue. At that point, Tyler got off after saying he was feeling better.

After alighting from the bus, persons in the neighborhood noticed he was ill and called police who took Tyler to the hospital. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Before joining the Blue Motor organization, Tyler operated his own garage in Jeffersontown. He was a native of Jefferson County and had lived in Jeffersontown most of his life. Tyler was a member of the Jeffersontown Baptist Church.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Sally Gentry Tyler; two brothers, Carl Tyler, Versailles, Ky., and Earl Tyler, Louisville; three sisters, Mrs. Anna Keller and Mrs. Eda Miller, Jeffersontown, and Mrs. Della Berry, Versailles, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Wednesday in Myers Funeral Home, Jeffersontown, with the Rev. L. E. Straney, pastor of the Baptist Church officiating. Interment was in Resthaven Memorial Park.

Time of Troubles

Lesson for June 15, 1958

LESS than half the chapters of the Book of Judges in the Bible are considered to be fit to print, as Sunday school lessons, that is, in quarters to be used by children and young people. It is only rarely that a lesson from this strange book appears, and most of it never does come out as a lesson. The curious reader can easily find out why, by reading the book for himself. He will find that it consists mostly of crime stories or adventure stories, tied together by a sober-sided and religious editor (name unknown) who plainly believed that these stories, frightening or exciting or comic or disgusting as they might be, nevertheless taught valuable lessons. What lessons can we of the 20th century, far removed from those lawless days, learn from these ancient stories?

... What Was Right in His Own Eyes?

First of all, we can see what it would be like if we abolished the police and the courts, burned the law books, never said "Don't" to anybody, but left everybody to do as he pleased. There are silly optimists now and then who think that human nature is naturally so good that all you need to do is to leave people alone, and their natural goodness will arrange everything just right. This is not true and it was never true. The editor of the book of Judges more than once appears to apologize, or offer some explanation, for the horrible events in some of his collected tales. Those were the days, he says, when there was no king in Israel, and every man did that which was right in his own eyes. "Right in his own eyes" is the key phrase. Here is pure individualism, here is anarchy. Here is the paradise of those who think the less law the better, and no law at all the ideal. This is the story of—not what can happen or might happen, but the true story of what did happen, when a whole nation forgot God and paid no attention to his laws and just went on "sag" of doing what they pleased, time after time. It was mess after mess. It is good for us (though unpleasant) that God's Providence has preserved for us these stories of what lawlessness will do to a nation.

Leading Lady

There is a brighter side of the book of Judges. The word "Judge" in this book has nothing to do with courts. Gideon, for example, was one of the least judicious men known to history. The word here means Hero, Deliverer, Military Leader. The judges were not saints, as we understand saints; but they were believers in God, they were God's Strong Men. The story of Deborah in chapters 4 and 5 shows that when men were scarce, a woman might take over, with great results. In every case of the war-like heroes we meet in these pages, we learn that God called him (or her) to his military achievement. But we can see also that these men were not puppets on God's strings. They thought and fought freely and bravely, putting their trust in God. The story of Deborah is specially interesting, because she was not a strange character, a sort of Joan of Arc, but a "regular person," a "mother in Israel" as she called herself. Even in the darkest times when a real leader appears, people will follow.

Private Morals and Public Welfare

Another very important lesson taught by the book of Judges is that private morals can't be kept private. The entire community is made strong or weak by the strength of the weakness of individuals. The whole story of the time of the "Judges" is a kind of up-and-down cycle like a roller-coaster. The nation would win freedom; but then it would get run down and weakened by laziness, loose living and vice; then it would fall in easy victim to one of the many nations that were always waiting for a chance to move in on them. Then they would be, to all intents and purposes, slaves of that enemy nation for years. Only when the people came back to God and his laws, did they recover the moral strength which built up their national strength to the point where—under some new leader—they could throw off the chains of bondage.

THE OLD TIMER

"Not much to see in a small town—but what you have makes up for it!"

SEEK YE FIRST THE KINGDOM

Faith

Son of man, whenever I doubt of life I think of Thee! So wrote George Matheson in his blindness. Whenever you and I doubt either God or man, we would do well to think of Jesus. His cross is a symbol of what God is and what we may become. The proud Roman at the foot of the cross said, "This man was the son of God." Jesus was supremely a man of faith. He had great faith in both God and man. We have faith in God largely because we must have Him. We are not sufficient unto ourselves. Do you have faith? Life becomes a radiant thing for people of faith, since they see so much deeper into the secrets of life. The universe opens its heart to eyes of faith; closed doors swing ajar when faithful steps approach; loving spirits smile their welcome to trustworthy souls; latent powers blossom in the presence of fidelity; young children and wise old age give themselves with abandon to those who offer confidence. God waits to share His blessings on men who can be trusted. Of the Pilgrims of yesterday, guided by the Divine, it was said, "They were men of faith and very sure of God." Are you sure of God?

ALTHOUGH THE STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT claims that no definite routing has been determined, apprehension is growing in Anchorage that the right-of-way of the proposed Jefferson County Loop will pass through the northeast section of the city and through neighboring Berrytown. The Anchorage Board of Trustees held a protest meeting last week on the feared routing, indicated by the broken line which also shows the point where an access would be provided to the proposed Interstate 64. The Anchorage officials want the original route, indicated by dots, followed. The state promises a decision soon.
